The following table shows the increase in returns from Milling and from Cyanide treatment respectively, for thelast five years: - From the time of the introduction of the process in 1890, previous to which an occasional heavy thunder shower, which carried a few thousand tons of tailings down the creeks, was looked upon as a perfect godsend, to the present, when deposits of 3 dwt. tailings are either being worked or else hugged as a valuable asset, the increase in output from cyanide plants has been marvellously rapid and steady.
