Negroes found in your district, refugees, of course must fare the same as others. Send back all negroes who have run away from the works. I repeat, as far as practicable, impress the slaves of those who hitherto have not furnished labor. Respectfully, your obedient servant, THOMAS JORDAN, Chief of Staff. Charleston, S. C, September 2, 1863. General S. Cooper, Adjutant and Inspector General, Richmond, Va.: The defense of Charleston is, in my opinion, the best protection for Wilmington. We are prepared to mount the second large Blakely gun. In my judgment, it should be sent hither. The fall of Charleston involves the loss of Wilmington. General Beauregard is inspecting defenses on James Island. This matter is so im Eortant I telegraph...
