Excerpt: . . . 11 need to continue to follow rigorous capital review process to assure we approve only the most cost-effective uses of our borrowing authority. Bonneville captured almost 90 average megawatts of energy efficiency in FY 2010, easily exceeding its portion of the Northwest Power and Conservation Councils con-servation target. The energy efficiency team was recognized as a leader in the field with multiple awards, including three Energy Management Awards from the De-partment of Energy and two regional Environmental Protection Agency Awards. KEY CHALLENGES The coming years will see fundamental changes in the Pacific Northwest power system. Growing demand and increased wind power development are combining to put new strains on our transmission and power systems. Bonneville is working closely with customers and stakeholders throughout the West and looking for opportunities to meet these new demands. Energy Efficiency - The Northwests Priority Resource The Pacific Northwest has long been a national leader in energy efficiency and Bonneville has been an integral part of this successful effort. Bonneville is signifi-cantly increasing investment in the years to come which will support the Adminis-trations goals of enhancing the economy, increasing energy independence, and pro-moting clean energy (Attachment A). In FY 2010, the Northwest Power and Conservation Council issued its Sixth Power Plan. The plan identifies energy efficiency as the least cost resource and envi-sions that almost 60 percent of the Pacific Northwests new demand for electricity over the next five years and 85 percent of load growth over the next 20 years could be met cost effectively...
